

Developing people for health and healthcare

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces e-learning programme

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces

Overview

- HEE e-Learning for Healthcare, together with NHS England, has produced an e-learning programme
- Aimed at health and social care professionals who come into contact with serving personnel, veterans and their families
- Service charities and lay people may also find the programme of use

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces

Content

Care of serving personnel:

- 1 session
- Advice on how to refer serving personnel to their military GP, and the differences between military and civilian healthcare systems

Care of veterans:

- 3 sessions
- Common issues that affect veterans needing to access healthcare

Care of families:

- 2 sessions
- Armed Forces Covenant and how to support families of both serving personnel and veterans

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces

Benefits of access

- Understand the specific nature of healthcare issues that commonly affect members of the Armed Forces community
- Appreciate the similarities and differences in healthcare options for civilians and those in the Armed Forces community
- Be able to provide accurate information and respond to patient needs for healthcare routes for members of the Armed Forces community

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces

Access routes

Freely available on the e-LfH website:

- <http://www.e-lfh.org.uk/programmes/armedforces>

Register and track your progress for access on the e-LfH Hub:

- <http://portal.e-lfh.org.uk/Account/logon>

NHS Healthcare for the Armed Forces

Contact

Any problems, please:

- Complete the contact form:
<http://millennium.kayako.com/ES/Tickets/Submit>
- Email support@e-lfh.org.uk